STIZRETH

Wonderful World

Stizreth (aka Seth) is a California (Grass Valley) based musician and producer. His first musical foray was with a set of drums he received at 8 years old...a set he taught himself how to play. At 15 he picked up the bass guitar, practising in the basement and enjoying the deep tones the instrument produced.

At 17 he entered the world of electronic music with his first beat machine (the Korg "Electribe"). And started gigging until, at around 19, he found himself with 5 hardware machines but still striving for that 'perfect' sound (additionally he was fed up carrying heavy cases of gear around to shows). The birth of his beautiful daughter gave him a rake of inspiration but was also offset with the inevitable time limitations.

With all this in mind he decided it was time to make the change from hardware to software and taught himself to use Ableton Live (a music-making tool designed for use in live performance as well as for production). He went through a few years of experimentation with Ableton defining and refining his sound.

Tracklist

- 01 Wonderful World
- 02 Symbiotic Rhythms
- 03 The Chosen One
- 04 Vibration Paths

Already a year in, however, he was becoming annoyed with the limitations of 'synth only' sound...what he craved was something with more texture, something a little ethnic. This led to the purchase of several middle-eastern instruments that served to broaden his horizons in music.

Finally at 22 something sparked. Using a combination of good marketing, crisp clean beats, real sampled ethnic instruments and a clear mind he was able to start to reach a fan base.

Now Seth has seen his tracks go from hundreds of plays, to thousands and now hundreds of thousands of plays. He is currently working on a video game soundtrack project, along with a few independent movie producers as well as looking to bring peace to everyday life.

The Stizreth sound is a reverb filled fest of trippy loops, acidic bass, spacey vocal and surprising melody that has already inspired the sets of DJs around the world as well as the track-lists of fellow musicians. It takes you into both the past and the future concurrently and here at VKRS we aim to rip that sound forcefully from the hands of the 'professionals' and place it into yours. We hope you enjoy it as much as we have...
