About coLEmanmusicproject

coLEmanmusicproject is a collaborative experimental music effort between Slmon Pressman and Paul Bedola (who have been producing electronic music since the early 90's). Their aim is to produce electronic music that spans multiple genres and moods to take you on a journey to where you might not yet realise you needed to go. Headphone listening (or a system with the capability to go low in the bass) is recommended to get the full colemanmusicproject experience. Sometimes it's all about the hypnotic sway of a sound or rhythm, sometimes a deep world shrouded in day after fuzziness, weirdness, melody, pace, tempo, ideas and moods all coalesced as sound. So listen with an open mind, and let the sounds fill the emptiness in an amorphous electronic massaging kind of a way.
